Since the Renaissance till Today, artists have observed closely the phenomena of birth and rebirth (nature, human and animal) and the beauty.

Laleh June Galerie is pleased to announce it's upcoming exhibition Earthly Delights around the phenomena of birth and rebirth and its relationship in art. Cloaca, his famous faeces-producing machine, his embellished everyday objects and tattooed pigs, his monumental cathedrals in metal, along with crooked Christs, obscene stained-glass windows, and steel towers, his sex-rays...The intrusion of the religious into his world comes across as the return of the repressed, metamorphosed by a craftsman's skill. His audacity disrupts the space-time continuum, questioning genres, cultures, and practices, blending the intellectual and the popular, and confronting the artistic heritage with the latest technology. This will be the second Wim Delvoe exhibition with Laleh June Galerie in Switzerland before other forthcoming projects with the gallery.
