The Laleh June Galerie is pleased to present A Century of Portraits. A Century of Portraits shines a spotlight on the portraits from 20th century. Portraits can represent individuals in many different ways. They can be literal representations of a person or they can represent a person symbolically. By the turn of the 20th century, photographs had become the most accessible and popular mode of portraiture. The exhibition features paintings, sculptures, photographs, drawings, gelatin silver prints, prints and bronzes by more than twenty artists, it includes works from Berenice Abbott to Dora Maar and Man Ray among other treasures such as the portrait of Man Ray by Carl Van Vechten dated 1934 or the portrait of Marcel Duchamp by Naomi Savage dated 1949--.
